ABOUT ME

- Aspiring software engineer seeking a challenging role where I can apply my technical skills, learning, and problem-solving abilities to contribute to the growth of a dynamic organization.

PROJECTS

- AirEx [airexp.herokuapp.com]

During this agile course project, I Collaborated with a team to build a website for AirEx, a service aimed at providing solutions for travelers who are unable to bring packaged items through airport security. The website allows users to track items shipped, locate nearest AirEx locations, and get price estimates.

Technologies used: JavaScript, React.js, HTML, CSS, Axios.

- Weather App [Jose's Weather App]

Created a weather app that allows users to search for accurate and current weather information for locations around the world, including cities, countries, and villages. I leveraged axios to integrate with the Openweathermap API, which provides weather data.

Technologies used: JavaScript, React.js, HTML, CSS, Axios

- NYPD Shooting Incidents Data Of 2019 [Click Here to see the Stats!]

Using Python's Jupyter Notebook I was able to extract data on shooting incidents across NYC. The data is also visualized across several heat maps, allowing you to identify areas with high crime.

Technologies used: Python

- Messaging App [Jose's cool messaging app]

Developed a messaging forum where members can engage with others across the user network. Also i enabled users to log in with their Google account and moderated the forum to automatically detect and warn against the use of profanity.

Technologies used: JavaScript, React.js, HTML, CSS, Firebase
